Chicago, Aug. 11.—Wet weather in the Red River valley prompted liberal purchases by shorts today, and wheat worked into a stronger position, at times displaying decided strength. However, there was free realizing by influential holders on the bulges, which effectually checked any strong upward movement. An advance of 1d to 1%d in the price of wheat at Liverpool imparted a bullish tone at the start and opening quotations showed gains of ½ to 1%. Export demand was still a negative quantity and the absence of foreign demand for the cash grain encouraged shorts to sell between 97% and 98%. The market closed firm with September at 98%.
